“Cabaret” comes to the Historic Holly Theater

Let's go back to the late 1920s in Berlin and fall in love with the mesmerizing English Cabaret dancer, Sally Bowles, alongside American writer, Clifford Bradshaw at the Kit Kat Klub. We'll hear classic numbers like “Maybe This Time,” “Don't Tell Mama,” and “Willkommen.”

In the smoldering rubble of lost dreams after WWI, the roaring twenties raged across the globe as people sought new dreams and ways to forget the old ones. The world of the underground speak-easy and the Cabarets flourished as did the questions of morality and totalitarian ideologies.

Cabaret, the 1966 Broadway hit and Tony Award-winning musical, is coming to the Historic Holly Theater in February 2016.

Cabaret is a story set in late 1920s Germany. An American novelist seeks inspiration for his next book. Instead, he steps into a world teetering on the brink of war, clashing virtues, a desperate search for reveries, and Hitler's march toward a thousand year Reich!

Cabaret is a roller coaster ride of emotions. The plot is gripping, unpredictable, and will glue patrons to their seats.

This musical is based on the book by Joe Masteroff, play by John Van Druten and stories by Christopher Isherwood. Music is by John Kander and lyrics are by Fred Ebb. Director Jamie Fambrough brings this dazzling production to the Historic Holly Theater. Make sure you buy your ticket to the Cabaret before they're gone!

With adult themes, the show runs from February 5-7, 12-14, and 19-21. Show times are Friday and Saturday nights at 8 pm and Sunday matinées at 2 pm.

Free parking is available at the UNG parking deck behind the theater.
